

Hardrock Revision: The History and Future of the Ute Ulay Mine

Join us for a fun and informative day exploring the heritage of the Ute Ulay Mine.

An international team of artists, writers, and scientists is working with Hinsdale County residents to envision ways to protect the historic Ute Ulay town and mill site. Hear about this innovative collaboration and the ideas proposed for the ghost town of Henson, Colorado.

Saturday, August 13, 2011
Moseley Arts Center

$35 Registration for the presentations
Free For Hinsdale County Residents
$20 Lunch (must pre-register)

9:00 am Welcome, Opening Remarks

Kye Abraham, LKA International, Ute Ulay Owner
Grant Pound, Executive Director, Colorado Art Ranch
Kristie Borchers, Executive Director, Lake City DIRT

9:45 am History of the Ute-Ulay

Grant Houston, Lake City Historical Society
Julia Lewandoski, Public Historian & Hardrock Revision
Team member

10:30 am Depart for Mine Tour

Tour led by Hardrock Revision Team. Wear closed toed hiking shoes.
Bring a water bottle and sunscreen. Parking is limited. Please carpool.

12:30 Lunch at 3rd Street Market Park across from Moseley Arts Center

1:30 Hardrock Revision Project

Grant Pound

2:15 – 4:15 pm Team presents their vision

Hannah Fries, Massachusetts poet and associate editor of Orion Magazine
Bland Hoke, Wyoming transdisciplinary artist and sculptor
Julia Lewandoski, public historian, musician, and facilitator living in Montreal
Anna Mcleod, Irish sculptor, curator, environmental artist, and mediator
Lydia Moyer, videographer, documentarian and educator from Virginia
Becky Sobell, landscape architect and community facilitator, Manchester, England
Linda Wysong, Oregon public sculptor and community collaborator

4:30 pm Moving Forward

Stan Whinnery, Commissioner, Hinsdale County

5:00 Community conversations and reception

ColoradoArtRanch

ARTS + PEOPLE + PLACE